12. Mobile Food Pantry*San Francisco-Marin Food Bank*

Multiple locations

 Call 415-282-1900

For neighbors who live in remote West Marin County, healthy food is not only expensive, it is literally out of reach. To meet this need, the Food Bank started a mobile pantry to connect isolated, low-income residents of West Marin County with fresh groceries. Every other week, our pantry on wheels travels over 100 miles to distribute fresh groceries to families in West Marin. We bring not only nutritious groceries – like eggs, chicken, rice, pasta and lots of fresh produce – we also help reduce isolation by connecting with those who live on the most remote ranches of West Marin.

During the pandemic, we have expanded the service to reach more families sheltering in place.

18. Neighborhood Food PantriesSan Francisco-Marin Food Bank

Multiple locations

This service brings food directly into the neighborhoods where it is needed the most and caters to populations ranging from families to seniors.

Together with partners, we are now running 250 pantries, located in easily accessible locations like schools, churches, and community-based organizations. For safety reasons, we are running most of them outdoors, and some as drive-thrus, and the groceries are pre-bagged. Still, a typical weekly pantry offers the participants carrots, potatoes, onions, apples, oranges, and lettuce, along with rice and chicken or eggs.
